

GOOD NEWS

TECHNOLOGY NEWS

Since the majority of the kids we work with are using technology more and more in their daily lives, CEF is trying to offer ways for them to connect to the gospel.

Wonderzone.com has been in use for several years now and is a fun way for kids to interact with the Bible through games and online fun.

CEF recently announced an app for children called "God's Word: Hide it!" It is only available for iPhone right now, but should also be available for Android soon.

Locally, we have updated our website www.franklincef.com with a new look. We've also added a Facebook page for Good News Camp in which we're sharing information and giving previews of songs and other activities.

It's not new, but our Tel-A-Story program is still offering recorded devotional stories each week. Now that many kids have their own phones, it's easy for them to call often. The numbers are 717-762-3000 and 717-264-8338.

CORA

Cora will be leading our summer missionaries throughout the summer. She'll be going with them to the week of training at Roxbury Camp. She's already been working on their schedules and preparing their supplies. She's also helping them complete the pre-training requirements they'll need before they go to Roxbury. In addition, she's working on planning for our camps that meet in satellite locations. She has a busy summer ahead of her.

JACOB

Jacob is now playing his bass guitar for two different praise bands. It makes for a busy Sunday morning as he travels from one church to another, but it's been a great experience for him. Each band has a young leader and they are great mentors for him, both musically and spiritually.

CALEB

Caleb had his 17th birthday last month. Right after that he was inducted into the National Honor Society. We are really proud of him for working diligently to get good grades and qualifying for this honor.

OLIVIA

Olivia had a great year in our church's youth choir. Last month, they took a two day trip to minister at a rescue mission in Delaware as well as several churches. They have had other ministry opportunities and will end the year by presenting their program at our church on June 7.