TRANSITION TIME

Once again, it's that time of year when we close the doors on our school year programs and start looking towards summer ministry.

It was nice to have a few warm days over the past few weeks to go over to camp and check on how everything survived the winter. It seems like there are no major problems and the property survived the cold weather well. We're thankful that there hasn't been any flooding so far this Spring and we pray there won't be any issues with the weather as clean up days are scheduled.

Over the next few months, our time will be divided between working in the office and working at the camp property. We're thankful for the opportunity to live so close to camp. It really helps us keep up with the maintenance and keep an eye on things in the off season.

CORA

Cora was able to come home for Spring Break. The week went quickly, but we were glad to spend some time with her.

She's in the final stretch of her Sophomore year and has really enjoyed her time in college. She's majoring in Elementary Education and really loves her classes. She'll be home for the summer to work at Good News Camp and to help with CYIA™.

CALEB

Caleb also got a week off of school for Spring Break. It was nice for him to have a vacation the same week that Cora was home. He's enrolled in his third college course and is really enjoying the challenge they bring.

JACOB

Over the past few weeks, Jacob and Josiah Fisler have had an opportunity to lead chapel services for the elementary students at Cumberland Valley Christian School. It has been a great experience for them and the younger students have really enjoyed their lessons.

OLIVIA

Olivia is keeping busy with school and church activities. She attends youth choir on Sunday evenings and Bible study groups on Wednesdays. She recently had an opportunity to minister at two different churches as part of a drama presentation.
