GOOD NEWS

The Russell Family with Child Evangelism Fellowship

JUST ONE PAGE

Since we were on vacation when this letter was written, we've shortened it to just one page for this month. We'll be back to our regular newsletter next month.

UPDATE

All the Russell children are still doing well. Cora and Seth were able to have a quick getaway to Bangkok last month when their school had a long weekend.

Caleb is enjoying his last three classes and is working part-time a few days a week.

Jacob is working at a day care each afternoon. He's enjoying his time playing with the kids. They wear him out each day!

Olivia is still thriving at college. The classwork is pretty hard, but she's keeping up and doing great. She has also joined some clubs and other social events. She's making the most of every opportunity.

Vacation

We (Dan and Michelle) were able to follow through with our vacation plans and left September 13 for some sun, rest, and relaxation. We flew into Las Vegas and then traveled to the Grand Canyon, Hoover Dam, and Zion National Park. We also had some days to just sit beside a pool and soak up some sun and rest. The temperatures exceeded 100° every day we were there, but the dry heat was so different from the heat we have in Pennsylvania. We really enjoyed the time together and the slow pace of life for a few days. Caleb and Jacob did just fine at home, and we were glad they were there to hold down the fort while we were away.

We're hoping to make this getaway an annual tradition now that our kids are grown and we have more time.

A few days into our trip, we began getting phone calls from volunteers with updates on school policies and procedures. In just a few short days, we had six schools that were ready and willing to start School Good News Clubs. We're still working on the details to get everything in place, but what a blessing to have these opportunities once again. Pray for us and our volunteers as we have to make some small changes to policies and procedures. We'll need wisdom to do this. Praise God for this unexpected opportunity.
