We are so thankful for the ten schools that have been open this year and have allowed us to have clubs. God has given us good attendance and safety, and we've seen children make lifelong decisions for Christ.

With the decision to have camp as scheduled, our lives will once again become busy. We're looking forward to it. Much of the camp preparation that can be done ahead of time has already been completed, so we are just waiting for the weather to allow us to get on the property and prepare.

We will have camp brochures and registration forms ready soon. We're waiting just a little longer than usual to make sure there are no last minute changes. Soon we will be mailing them and they will be available on our website. We're looking for creative ways to distribute them since it can't be done in most schools. Pray that children will hear about camp and decide to come this summer.

We're expecting several work crews in the next few months to help us clean and prepare for a new year of camp. There is always much to be done, and these groups enjoy the projects. If you are able to come and help, let us know. There are usually jobs to be done both inside and outside.

Family News

Cora and Seth missed more than a month of in-person school while the schools were closed by the government. They were teaching virtually and it was going well, but they are happy to be back in the classrooms again. The picture shows two of Cora's students.

Caleb is our only one at home right now. He's looking for a job and we're praying that God will provide just the right one. Meanwhile, he's helping with Good News Clubs and church. This is him at church with his great-grandmother (age 96). We have five generations that worship together.

Jacob is so happy to be back on campus at Liberty for the semester. His advanced computer classes were getting too complicated to take online. He's settled into the same dorm and has found old and new friends. They've had several snow and ice storms that have cancelled classes.

Olivia is back at school as well. She had to quarantine for a week because of contact tracing and did not enjoy that at all. Thankfully, she did not test positive and has returned to her busy schedule. She turned 19 in January and sent us this picture of her party.

Just a reminder that our monthly newsletter and prayer calendar can be found online. With mail delays, some of you have been getting them late, so feel free to print or download it from our website until yours arrives. Our website is www.franklincef.com. Camp brochures can be found there as well.
