GOOD NEWS

CORA AND SETH

Cora and Seth are moving to Washington State! Seth has accepted a job as 8th grade math teacher with Lynden Christian School in Lynden, WA. This will be quite a climate adjustment for them, but they are excited about the opportunity. Some teacher friends from Bangkok are there, so they have familiar faces waiting for them. Pray for Cora as she looks for a teaching job either in the same school or in the nearby public schools.

CALEB

Caleb continues to help at CEF and church wherever he is needed. His editing jobs have kept him very busy this past month as many students are working on PhD and DMin dissertations at this time of year. He enjoys editing them because they are on interesting topics.

JACOB

Jacob has had many interviews over the past few weeks. He's been talking to companies all over the country, but hasn't found the right fit yet. Pray for him as he navigates this new world of making life-altering decisions. He was able to come home for spring break and enjoyed time to rest and visit with friends.

OLIVIA

Olivia spent her spring break serving at a camp in Texas for special needs children called Beloved and Beyond. Since it was really too far for her to fly home for this short time, it was a nice way for her to use her break. The weekends were used to rest and prepare for the last months of the school year. Pray as she searches for housing in Lynchburg for the summer.

THANKFUL

Most School Good News Clubs have ended by now or will end in the very near future. We are so thankful for the clubs that met this year. Some of them saw great growth and some struggled with post-COVID adjustments. Each time a club met, it was a blessing to all who were involved.

Our attention has shifted almost completely to camp now. We will have meetings, work days, and planning sessions to get things ready throughout the next two months. The t-shirts have arrived, and they are just beautiful. We can't wait to share them with the campers and staff.

Pray that God will provide what is still needed - especially teachers, a lifeguard, bus drivers, and nurses. Please let us know if you or someone you know can fill any of these needs.
